A BRUTE.—A brutal affair took place in Pittsburgh a few days ago. Some hogheads of sugar were placed outside of a grocery store, and attracted the attention of some children on their way home from school. The children put their fingers through the crevices and holes of the barrels, and indulged in sweets for a few minutes. Suddenly, a man named Batchelor, rushed out from the store with a vessel of boiling water and dashed it upon the children, who were dreadfully scalded. One little boy presented a shocking appearance, the entire side of his head, face and neck being literally cooked. The doctor stated that it is probable all the hair from one side of the head will come out, and will never grow again. It is also feared that one of the eyes will be lost. The brutal perpetrator was arrested and held for a hearing. He desired to make an information against the child for the larceny of sugar, but was not permitted.

THE PROGRESS OF REVOLUTION.—Three years ago the leader of the House had not a corporal's guard to uphold him in his revolutionary theory, born of a corrupted brain and a tyrannous heart, that the seceding States are conquered provinces. When he first announced that all contracts between the North and South were abrogated, all obligations annulled, a dozen of his own party friends sprang to their feet in indignant protest against it. To day a majority uphold him in his rebellion; to try to trample on the habeas corpus and the jury trial, to defy the authority of the Supreme Court, to subordinate courts of law to the arbitrary will of a soldier, even though done in the name of liberty, are as rebellious in spirit as the enactment of an ordinance of secession, or the formal disclaimer of the authority of the Federal Government.—Nat. Int.

A SIMPLE RECIPES FOR GOITRE.—An intelligent lady of this county who has used it with success in her own case, and has known another to be cured with the same remedy, sends us for publication the following simple recipe for the cure of the goitre:

"A piece of fresh butter the size of a hulled walnut mixed with a spoonful of soda, spread upon and mixed with raw cotton, applied to the throat. Renew the application every day." The lady who sent us this recipe says: "It will cause small blisters, and make the throat quite sore, but will remove the goitre; at least did so in my case, and in that of the person who recommended me to use it. I stand to wear the poultice for three weeks."—Stanton Spectator.

WHERE IS CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE?—Mr. Chase, as a member of Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, decided the Peirpoint Government to be the true, constitutional government of Virginia. The question arose in this wise: West Virginia claimed to have been formed with the consent of Virginia. That consent had been given by the Peirpoint Government. Inasmuch as the Constitution of the U. S. required the consent of the real government, Mr. Lincoln and his Cabinet, and Congress also, had to decide the question. They did so under their oaths to support that Constitution. Under the sanction of the same oaths, Congress now declares that it is not the true Government of Virginia. If Virginia has no constitutional government, West Virginia has no constitutional existence.—Richmond Dispatch.

EXTRAVAGANCE.—The Duchess de Persigny, one of the leaders of the fashion in Paris, has got into a lawsuit with her milliner, whose bills she refuses to pay, on the ground that the charges are excessive. Among the items in the account is "a robe of white and gold taffeta, elegantly trimmed, with a chemise and sleeves of Valenciennes lace, the charge for which was $160. A gorgeous robe de bal of maroon and silver tulle, dotted all over with blue and silver butterflies, is priced $240; a satin cloak, also dotted with butterflies to match, $70, and a costume of black silk, trimmed with jet ornaments, $140." The court referred the disputed account to an expert, and deferred its judgment. Fashionable women in New York pay bills as much as large as these, and seldom resort to the law.

RECONSTRUCTING FOR ETERNITY.—"Mack, the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati 'Commercial,' gets off the following: 'Mr. Morehead, of Pittsburgh, closed a eulogy on his late colleague, Philip Johnson, with the following very touching piece of rhetoric: 'How important that we, while using our best energies to re-construct the government for time, should not fail to use proper exertions for reconstruction personally for eternity.' I am afraid if Congressmen don't make better progress with eternal than they have with temporal reconstruction, they will all go to the devil by default.'
